

KOHL broadcasts basketball games

Ohlone basketball's home opener against Feather River College will be broadcast live by KOHL--FM 89.3 at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 28.

All home basketball games will be broadcast live by KOHL.

"Sports broadcasting is only a small part of the improved programming on KOHL," says Jim Sorenson, program director.

"We have a much better music selection because we're getting three times as many promotional albums from the record companies," he says.

Concert Hall, KOHL's classical music hour at 6 p.m., will have Steve Olla as its new host. Olla, who handles shipping and receiving in the bookstore, is also conductor of the Gilbert and Sullivan Opera Company of San Jose.

Saya Olla, "One evening might feature a particular composer. I'll be having interviews with local musicians and have them play some material."

"I'll also be familiarizing people with upcoming concerts. The show is going to be very audience orientated," says Olla.

KOHL, which broadcasts from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, is hoping to increase its hours. "We want to get a jazz show on from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. next quarter," explains Sorenson.

"We also have had good responses from people listening to our live coverage of Fremont city council meetings.

"We cover community news better than any of the other news services," says Sorenson. "If there is a meeting that ends at 3:30 p.m. we can have the pertinent information on the news at 5 p.m."

"We have three studios and $4,000 of new, necessary equipment, including a fire and police radio scanner. These help give us the best coverage of local news."

"A year ago, one person read from the Wall Street Journal and the Argus, and that was the news. Now we have four people announcing on our 5 p.m. news show, and much of the news we gather ourselves," says Sorenson.

KOHL now has foreign language programs and local high school programs. The staff plans to have an Ohlone sports program with interviews of players and coaches.

"We have a veteran information program and are trying to get a five-minute sequence together from the Women's Center," says Sorenson.

Next quarter, for the first time, students will be able to take classes by listening to KOHL. "Dial-A-Class" will have two classes offered, "Marriage and the Family in a Changing World," Sociology 5-41, and "Personal and Family Finance," Business Administration 60-41.

Both classes will be on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. SOC 5-41 from 10 to 11 a.m. and Bus Admin 60-41 from 11 to 11:50 a.m.
